Warrants Sought For Wealthy Trio

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) — Three "armed and dangerous" men from wealthy California families are the target of a nationwide hunt today, sought for questioning in the mass kidnapping and imprisonment of 26 Chowchilla school children and their bus driver.

Alameda and Madera county sheriffs said they would seek arrest warrants this morning for the three San Francisco Bay-area men.

An all-points bulletin named Frederick N. Woods, 24, James L. Schoenfeld, 24, and Richard A. Schoenfeld, 22. It described them as "armed and dangerous" and told officers to "arrest on probable cause."

Alameda County Sheriff Tom Houchins and Madera County Sheriff Ed Bates told a news conference Thursday night that ransom may have been the motive for snatching the youngsters and burying them alive inside a van in a Livermore rock quarry owned by Woods' father.

"I believe these three are involved in the kidnapping sufficiently enough so that we can arrest them," Bates said. Houchins confirmed earlier reports that the younger Woods owned the moving van used to imprison the school children four feet underground. It took the youngsters and the driver 18 hours to tunnel out.

Sheriff's officers had searched the Woods' 100-acre suburban San Mateo County estate Thursday, discovering about 100 vehicles apparently accumulated by the younger Woods.

San Mateo County Sheriff John McDonald said officers had been looking for "vans, masks and guns." He said new searches were underway in Sonoma County and San Jose where Woods "has some acreage, some warehouses and barns. They'll be looking for some more vehicles, more vans."

Two vans were used to transport the Chowchilla children after the kidnappers camouflaged the school bus from which the children and driver were taken.

Bates said one of the men being sought has not been seen since the incident and that officials expect to know today "whether they are out of state and if they are we will ask the FBI to come in."

Registrar, Auditor Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bureau of Motor Vehicles Registrar Curtis Andrews called Thursday for an independent investigation into the operations of state Auditor Thomas Ferguson's office.

The call came on the heels of an audit of the motor vehicles bureau released Tuesday by the auditor's office.

In the audit, state examiners said deputy registrars are making numerous mistakes in distributing motor vehicle license fee money and their books are backlogged several years.

The audit covered the period from October 1970 through the fall of 1973.

Andrews said state law requires the auditor's office to examine financial records of all state agencies at least every two years. Andrews said the auditor "is derelict because he has not performed an audit covering the last two years as required by law."

Also, Andrews said, the audit of the motor vehicles bureau was nearly three years late.

The auditor's report was critical of the bureau operation as it existed in 1973, Andrews said, and made no mention of the collection process which was corrected long ago by the current administration.

According to Andrews, there were indications in the audit that deputy registrars appointed by former Gov. John J. Gilligan may have been diverting state funds for private use.

"Is it the established practice of Ferguson, a Democrat, to withhold from the public obviously bad audit reports if they involve Democratic office holders?" Andrews asked.

Contacted by phone, the state auditor said another audit of the motor vehicles bureau, covering the more recent years, will be started soon.

"The first audit was critical of the Gilligan administration," Ferguson said, "this next one will be critical of the Rhodes administration."

Saying the taxpayers are entitled to a review of the operation of the auditor's office, Andrews said one avenue of investigation would be a grand jury probe.

Andrews said his office has taken steps to try to recover missing funds, but a more timely and competent audit by the Ferguson office "could have prevented some of the losses."

Scientists Hope To Correct Viking Malfunction Soon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Viking officials believe they have diagnosed, and can easily solve, a malfunction on the Mars lander that caused its soil-scooping arm to jam.

If their theory of the failure is correct, Project Manager Jim Martin said Thursday night, the beginning of the Mars life search next Wednesday will not be affected.

Martin said the telescoping arm, which was designed to reach out for a handful of Martian soil and dump it in a small biology laboratory, jammed Thursday after being extended for a test.

It jammed while being retracted, he said, apparently because a locking pin that should have fallen free did not do so.

He said that was the "most probable cause" of the trouble. The cure, which will be tried Sunday, is to command the robot lander to extend the arm again until the pin falls to the ground.

If that was indeed the cause, said Martin, it is likely that there will be no effect on the mission "and we will be able to continue on our present timeline."

A special team of trouble shooters came up with the theory after duplicating the problem on an identical Viking lander that sits in a sand-box at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here. Martin described the failure as a "human error." He said the lander's computer had been fed — long before Viking 1 arrived on Mars — with an erroneous command. As a result, the telescoping arm did not extend far enough to let the pin fall away.

Martin said there had been no progress on two other problems plaguing the lander's investigation of the red, rocky surface on which it landed Tuesday.

One was the seismometer, designed to monitor marsquakes, which never recovered from the dormant state it remained in during Viking's journey from Earth. But it was too soon to write it off, officials said.

Communications with the lander over 212 million miles of space were somewhat limited by a balky transmitter on the lander. As a result of the undiagnosed malfunction, data were being received for a shorter time each day than had appeared possible at first.

One result could be, said Martin, "that we won't be able to take as many pictures as we had planned."

Engineers were still working on those problems. They were also continuing to study the sampler arm failure, because if the locking pin turns out not to be the cause, there may be some other cause that would be harder to fix and could affect the life search.

The breakdown occurred after Viking's computer sent a series of commands to put the sampler arm through a test. As ordered, motors whirled and the arm ejected a cover that had protected the small shovel-like head during the flight from earth.

But after 13 of the 17 commands had been carried out, the arm, instead of swinging back to its resting position, stuck and refused to budge.

The arm extends from a goldpainted housing on the side of the lander. Attached to the battleship-gray lander, it looks something like a cannon on the deck of a warship.

Its job is to reach out and dig up a small amount of soil, then swing around and dump the dirt into three funnels. One funnel leads to the biological laboratory, the second to an instrument to test for organic compounds and the third to an inorganic analysis chamber.

Despite the potentially disastrous malfunction, the preprogrammed lander was to continue taking pictures of the rocky red terrain surrounding it, and monitoring the Martian weather.

The continuing trouble with the lander radio sender drastically slowed the return of data from Mars' surface. Among other things, it delayed the second Martian weather report.

Martin said that at the time of the sampler arm jam the temperature on the surface was about 9 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, which he doubted was cold enough to cause the problem.

Justice Powell Halts Execution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court justice is delaying an order that would have allowed three states to begin executing death row convicts, a move that could also delay executions of more than 600 persons across the country.

Justice Lewis F. Powell issued an order Thursday staying the imposition of death sentences in Georgia, Florida and Texas until the Supreme Court, which is now in recess, can consider a rehearing of the cases of three men who sought the delay.

The high court does not meet again until Oct. 4.

While Powell's stay deals only with the cases of three men in the three states, court spokesmen said it is expected that all states will delay any planned executions until the cases are decided.

David E. Kendall of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund said it was expected that state courts would block executions in their states, at least through September, because of the Powell stay.

A survey earlier this month by The Associated Press showed 630 persons on death rows across the nation.

Powell's order stays the effect of a Supreme Court decision July 2 in which all three states were told that their capital punishment laws are constitutional. In the same decision, the court struck down mandatory death penalties in North Carolina and Louisiana.

The justice acted on requests from the NAACP fund and lawyers for the defendants in the three states.

Powell had voted with the 7 to 2 majority in upholding the Georgia, Florida and Texas capital punishment laws and in his order Thursday he said the stay should not suggest his feelings on the merits of the petitions seeking Supreme Court review of the decision.

The court ruled in 1972 that the death penalty as generally applied throughout the country gave too much leeway to judges and juries in sentencing convicted criminals to death. But the justices decided July 2 that the death penalty statutes in the three states met early court objections because they gave judges and juries guidelines on which to base their decisions.

There are seldom situations where the high court reconsiders a case, but Powell noted that only the entire court can make that decision.

"If the executions in these cases were carried out before the petitions for rehearing could be acted on by the court, the harm to petitioners obviously would be irreparable," the justice wrote.

None of the states involved opposed the request for a stay of the court's July 2 order.

The cases in Thursday's order involved:

—Charles William Proffitt, 30, of Tampa Fla., convicted of the stabbing death of a high school wrestling coach.

—Jerry Lane Jurek, 27, sentenced to die for strangling a 10-year-old girl and throwing her body into a river at Cuero, Tex.

—Troy Leo Gregg, 27, sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of two men who picked him up as he hitchhiked along a Georgia highway.

Worker, 31, Wins Lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thomas Huskey, a 31-year-old rubber factory worker, says his wife is going to get a new dryer and the family will get a new car. And Huskey can well afford it after winning $1,000-a-month for life in the Ohio lottery.

"We never had a new car before," said Huskey, after winning the top prize in the Buckeye 1,000 game Thursday night.

He said he has worked in the crude rubber department at General Tire & Rubber for the past seven years and plans to keep on working there.

"I'm not planning any early retirement," said Huskey. General Tire employees have continued working despite a United Rubber Workers strike against the Big Four of the rubber industry.

Other Buckeye 1,000 winners included Louis Roberto of Cincinnati, who took home $5,000; Joseph Mazanetz, Rock Creek, $4,000; Marie Evans, Akron, $3,000; Rosemary Dumolt, New Lexington, $2,000, and George Beda, Brecksville, $1,000. The numbers drawn in the televised show were 359, 3806, 02651 and 72681.

American Party Passes Tests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday the American Party has qualified as a minor political party in Ohio.

Brown said the petitions had 84 more valid signatures than are needed for the party to qualify in the state.

As a result, Brown said, the American Party may run candidates in Ohio for president and vice president of the United States.

Petitions for the American Party's candidate for the U.S. Senate, Donald Babcock of Bay Village, are being checked, Brown said.

A minimum of 500 valid signatures is needed in order for Babcock to qualify for placement on the Nov. 4 general election ballot, said Brown.

Two Ashville Women Named Outstanding

Two Ashville Women, Bonnie Sue Remy and Elizabeth Ann Featheringham, have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America.

The announcement came this morning from the board of advisors of the Outstanding Women program which is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, professions and communities.

Both young women will be listed along with their biographies in the annual awards volume, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

Approximately 7,000 women from across the nation have been selected for inclusion in the volume. In addition, the listees will be considered for one of the 51 state awards to be presented to those women who have made the most noteworthy contributions in their individual states.

From these 51 state winners, the outstanding young women of America will be chosen and will be honored at the annual awards luncheon to be held this fall in Washington, D.C.

HERITAGE PROGRAM — "Our American Heritage" will be presented Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre near Chillicothe. The program will feature the 100-voice choir of the Ashville Community Singers, pictured, under the direction of Coyt Carroll Jr. Featured soloists will be Roger Allen, Bob Adams, Metta Dill, Judy Myers, Delmer Doddrell and Velma Purcell. The narration will be done by Jim Leckrone of WBNS Radio. The "I Love America" contata will be preceded by a flag drill by the American Legion VFW Post 3331 and the Hall Adkins Post 134. The combined color guard will be in full colonial dress. Several other musical selections by area talent will also highlight the evening's performance. Tickets may be purchased at the Central Hallmark Store in Circleville, the "Tecumseh" information booth in Chillicothe, Boyd's in Ashville or at the theatre just prior to the performance.

Adelphi Painter To Be Featured At State Fair

The largest Ohio State Fair Fine Arts Show in history has been assured for this year, with the announcement today that 732 exhibitors have entered the Fine Arts Department.

Ohio's professional and amateur artists will be competing in the juried show for a total of $8,600 in premium money.

Paintings, sculpture, graphics, mixed media, pottery, jewelry, enameling, textiles and photography will be represented in this year's art show, with all exhibits being housed in the Cox Fine Arts Building, located just inside the 11th Avenue entrance.

This year's special exhibitor will be Tella Kitchen of Adelphi, a primitive painter in the mold of Grandma Moses.

Mrs. Kitchen, widowed in 1963, took up painting when an art teacher offered free art lessons to Senior Citizens. Mrs. Kitchen tells the story, "I was too old to paint new-fangled things and I just began to paint the simple things I remembered and loved."

Her vivid, bold paintings reflect a deep love for her family and for her country. Her powerful images are a tribute to America and in them one can sense the source of strength which made this country great.

Ohio State Fair Manager John F. Evans and Fine Arts Director Leland S. McClelland announced that the exhibition by Mrs. Kitchen will bring together for the first time, many of the works by one of America's most gifted native artists in her first one-woman show.

The Cox Fine Arts Building will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. each day of the Fair except Labor Day when the hours will be from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The 1976 Ohio State Fair, the "Showcase of the American Spirit," is scheduled in Columbus from August 26th through September 6th.

Contest Shaping Up

Even before the Republicans nominate their candidates for the presidency and vice presidency, it seems obvious that the general election campaign will be conducted along reasonably clear-cut liberal versus conservative positions on most issues. The selection of Walter Mondale of Minnesota, one of the Senate's most consistent liberals, to be Jimmy Carter's running mate—combined with the 1976 party platform—places a decidedly liberal complexion on the Democratic ticket.

Ideological positions on issues frequently are offset by personalities of the candidates, geographical strengths and other considerations. But there are a number of important issues which were raised during the Democratic contest and still are being discussed in the

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, July 23, the 205th day of 1976. There are 161 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in History:

On this date in 1914, Austria issued an ultimatum to Serbia after the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand. The dispute preceded the outbreak of World War I.

On this day:

In 1588, an English army assembled at Tilbury on the Thames River to repel an invasion of England by the Spanish Armada.

In 1828, William Burt of Mount Vernon, Michigan received a patent for his "typographer." It may have been the first typewriter.

In 1945, Marshal Henri Petain was put on trial, charged with betraying France in World War II.

In 1952, Gen. Mohammed Neguib seized power in Egypt.

In 1958, Queen Elizabeth named four women to the peerage. They became the first women to sit in Britain's House of Lords.

In 1973, Spain's Prince Juan Carlos took the oath as Gen. Francisco Franco's designated successor.

Ten years ago: President Aguib Nasser celebrated the 14th anniversary of the overthrow of King Farouk with a display of Soviet military hardware in Cairo.

Five years ago: Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that an uprising against the government in the Sudan had been overcome.

One year ago: Canada closed its Atlantic ports to Soviet fishing ships, saying they had violated Canadian coastal fishing rights.

Today's birthdays: Former baseball star Don Drysdale is 40. The onetime shortstop for the old Brooklyn Dodgers, Pee-wee Reese, is 57.

Thought for today: The best armor is to keep out of gunshot. — Sir Francis Bacon, English philosopher, 1561-1626.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia sent word to Gen. George Washington in New York that the delegates' judgment was such that they would give him no instruction in his plans to prepare defenses for an expected British attack.

of Cruelty to Animals to take the dog away in a cage and gas him to death.

Donnie chained Brownie in the coalbin. The dog howled. Everyone agreed that Donnie was a strange little boy. He was silent at dinner; silent at homework. Whatever was in his heart he poured out in whispers to Brownie.

Summer came and the older brothers and sisters teased the dog by inching a broom near his food dish. Brownie played the game. He growled and bared his teeth and snapped. The mother said, "These are dangerous dog days. They get rabies."

Donnie came home from school. The cellar was silent. He yelled upstairs, "Where's Brownie?" His mother said, "The SPCA took him away." The boy choked. Without permission he hopped his bike and pedaled three miles to the pound.

He begged the man behind the counter to return his friend. The man asked for a description. "That one," the man said, "went into the gas chamber with four others a few minutes ago. I'm sorry son. Tell you what I'll do. I'll give you a good dog. A really good one."

Donnie forgot his vow. His head bent, the scalding tears came. Sobs wracked his little chest. He knew that no one can replace your best friend...

Bad Paint Safety Fault

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — A Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) official says defective paint used in a critical area in the Davis-Besse nuclear power station could have contributed to a serious accident.

James Keppler, regional director of the NRC, said Wednesday the original paint used inside a stainless steel dome of the containment building could have peeled and clogged drains needed in case of an emergency shutdown of the plant.

He told a news conference here Wednesday that the old paint was being sandblasted and fresh coats of paint being applied.

Questions were raised about the paint in 1974 by a former quality control inspector at Davis-Besse, Mark Vining, 29, of Sandusky.

Vining says he was fired by the painting contractor, Bagwell Coatings, Inc. two years ago because he complained to supervisors about the quality of the work. He said also he refused to falsify paperwork.

Keppler said allegations by three other former quality control inspectors that they either were ordered to falsify paperwork or saw others do it could not be proved.

He said it "came down to one man's word against another's, so we decided not to pursue the matter."

Private Firm In OIC Mess

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Plain Dealer said today it has learned that a private business serving lawyers was granted access to Ohio Industrial Commission offices after hours last fall and processed more than 1,000 men's compensation claim applications.

The Plain Dealer said its sources, not identified, reported that the project had the personal authorization of former Commission Chairman Gregory Stebbins and was conducted despite the objections of commission employees.

An estimated 80 per cent of the claims processed by the private firm, operating under the name of Barbara Mowery, involved cases in which Ms. Mowery's firm had an interest, the Plain Dealer said.

These were said to be claims which law firms had paid the Mowery firm to push through state channels.

The Plain Dealer said Ms. Mowery and four of her employees, working on Friday and Saturday nights, processed the claims at no charge to the state.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Have you ever heard of the "S" diet? I have looked for it and can't find it. I understand it's great for taking off weight.

Miss G. K. M., Maine

Dear Miss M.: Some time ago, I write about this well-conceived idea. It was printed in a highly respected medical publication, "Consultant." They referred to it as the "8-S" diet.

"8-S" means eight words starting with the letter "S" for foods that make an important contribution to our total daily intake of calories.

This diet, like all other diets, is based on the unalterable and irrefutable scientific axiom that weight loss can be accomplished only if the number of calories we consume daily is less than the number of calories we need for our body's fuel.

The 8 S's to be wary of are:

- 1) Snacks: especially between meals, can add an enormous number of calories to our daily intake. Almost invariably, these snacks seem to be high in calories.
- 2) Starches: potatoes, bread, macaroni, spaghetti, breading on fried foods, biscuits.
- 3) Sweets: the hidden and obvious calories in most sweets are known to all of us.
- 4) Second helpings: many people overlook the fact that second helpings mean a second dinner.
- 5) Soft drinks: except for those that contain no sugar.
- 6) Slippery foods: "slippery foods" include greasy foods, fried foods, visible fat on meat, butter and most salad dressing."
- 7) Spirits: alcohol, wine and beer are highly caloric... they get more caloric when the intake is higher.
- 8) Salt: salt (sodium chloride) plays an important role in the maintenance of body fluids which may be a factor in obesity.

The "8-S" diet is a sensible guide. It should make dieters aware of the many factors responsible for weight gain.

When an ideal weight is attained, the "8-S" diet should still be respected, so the loss of weight that is accomplished will not creep back again, slowly.

Labor Leader Under Indictment

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Atty. Frederick Coleman says a federal grand jury has indicted former East Liverpool labor leader Eugene Simmons Jr., 42, on a charge of embezzling $550 from Potters Union funds.

Simmons is a former president of Potters Local 141.

The grand jury indicted another East Liverpool man, 25-year-old Tommy Hebb, on bank robbery charges in the July 6 holdup of the Wellsville branch of the Citizens Banking Co. of Salineville.

The grand jury charged that Hebb and Richard Tucker Jr. robbed the bank of nearly $23,000.

Tucker later was shot and killed by a sheriff's deputy at Knoxville, Tenn. after the deputy stopped the two for investigation of a hit-skip auto accident.

Young GOP Club Hears Candidates

Carl Hirsch Jr., Republican candidate for the Ohio House of Representatives, and Mark Campbell, a member of Senator Bob Taft's campaign team, were guests of the Pickaway County Young Republicans Club at their regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. Hirsch greeted individuals and participated in an indepth discussion on the purpose and priorities of the Club. He commented that the chief priority of the club should be to deliver the Republican vote. Campbell commented briefly on some of Senator Taft's ideals: good health and welfare programs constructed with the taxpayers burden in mind, strong defense, emphasizing the importance of the Navy, and politically, the importance of grass roots campaigning. Gene Long, candidate for County Prosecutor, also addressed the Club on the priority of getting the voters out.

In compliance with it's Ohio Charter, the Club reorganized, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Jim (Linda) McCoskey, president, Dave Winner, vice president, and Mrs. Roger (Sandy) Dresbach, secretary, treasurer. A schedule to man the Republican booth at the Pickaway County Fair was completed. The next regular meeting will be August 17th at 7 p.m. in Pickaway Co. Common Pleas Courtroom.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer, at 219 South Court Street.

(Q) If a veteran wants to change to a school in another state, where should he file his request?

(A) His request should be filed with the VA regional officer that currently has his records.

(Q) Can my entitlement to a VA guaranteed home loan be restored if a buyer assumes my equity?

(A) Yes, providing the buyer is an eligible veteran and agrees to use his entitlement to the same extent your entitlement was used.

(Q) I have been receiving my pension check from the Veterans Administration monthly without fail until this month. Can you tell me how come?

(A) Is it possible that you have moved, and neglected to notify VA that you moved to a new address? Your veteran service officer can assist you in filing a form 572, change in address.

(Q) I know that there is no longer any draft, but is it still necessary to register when a young man turns 18 years of age.

(A) If, or until, new laws are enacted, there is no longer any need for young men to register.

(Q) Are there six Veterans Administration Hospitals in the State of Ohio?

(A) No, there are five. Two in Cleveland, and one in Dayton, Chillicothe, and Cincinnati. There is also an Out Patient Treatment Clinic at Ohio State University in Columbus.

Tokyo String Quartet Makes Mark

NORFOLK, Conn. (AP) — People in the audience whistled and stomped their feet. An uncommon reception from generally restrained classical music fans. But the Tokyo String Quartet is not common.

They play together as though there were not just a cello, a viola and two violins. They play practically as one, yet maintain their individuality.

"They are in the front rank of all quartets, young and old," said violist Raphael Hillyer. "If you were to name the top five in the world they would be on it. I don't think there would be any disagreement, anywhere."

Hillyer was in Tokyo during the summer of 1966, teaching with the Juilliard String Quartet. Three of the present members of the Tokyo String Quartet, then all about 20 years old, were in the class.

"It only takes a few minutes to figure who's exceptionally talented," he said. "These people made an impression at once. They had potential as a great quartet."

In such a quartet, said Hillyer, each player must retain his individuality, but there must be a "unanimity of feeling about music. That's the whole enigma of a first-rate quartet, the way of blending the individuals."

He encouraged them to study in the United States and helped them form a quartet in 1969. Two of the musicians spent a time with the Nashville Symphony Orchestra to earn money to attend Juilliard.

In the summer of 1969 the new quartet practiced from morning to midnight for seven weeks, rehearsing a repertoire for a prestigious chamber music competition in Munich, Germany. They took first prize and were off. A recording contract went with the first prize.

"This is our dream," said the group's violist, Kazuhide Isomura.

"We all fell in love with chamber music. We all believe quartet music is the greatest literature ... When we play for an audience we get excited. We get high."

None of them ever wanted to be a soloist, although Hillyer said some of their teachers tried to push them in that direction.

Playing chamber music, second violinist Kikuei Ikeda said, is "like having a conversation. You have just one person talking and it's not so good. Here we're all sitting around talking. I like that better."

This summer, while they're in residence at the Yale summer music school in Norfolk, they are learning five Beethoven quartets. Next season they're booked for 97 concerts in the United States and Europe after they complete a six-week tour of Japan.

"Ten to 15 years ago you could hardly give away a string quartet, except a few. Now we are in a renaissance of chamber music. It's a sound the young people are mad for," said Audrey Michaels, the quartet's press representative.

The quartet splits about $2,500 a concert after they pay their manager and such tour expenses as transportation and housing.

In 1836, the stage trip from Wheeling, W.Va., to Columbus, Ohio took 22 hours.

Grand Ater Reunion Attended By 345 Family Members At Clarksburg Field Day Grounds

The Grand Ater Reunion was held recently at the Clarksburg Field Day Grounds, Clarksburg. Three hundred forty-five descendants of George Ater and guests enjoyed a bountiful picnic dinner at the noon hour. Relatives came from California, New Mexico, Florida, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky to spend the day with the Ohio relatives.

Dr. David Ater served as master of ceremonies for the afternoon program. Howard Ater, chairman of the steering committee, extended a welcome to all present.

The hymn, "Abide With Me", was sung by a quartette composed of Dr. Ater, Ula Jean Ater Metzler, Lori Ater, and the Rev. Milford Ater. Don Metzler was the piano accompanist.

Rev. Ater, Director of the Alcoholism Program, Community Hospital, Springfield, read Psalm 102 and gave a brief message. Group singing of the hymn, "Amazing Grace" was led by Dr. Ater.

The secretary of the steering committee, Ula Jean Ater Metzler, gave a report of the year's monthly meetings. Glen E. Ater read the treasurer's report.

Dr. Ater introduced the steering committee consisting of Howard Ater, Ula Jean Ater Metzler, Bernice Noble Hulse, John W. Ater, Carl Steinhauser, Jr., Glen E. Ater, David Reed, and Dr. Ater. John Ater had been chairman of the picnic grounds committee and Carl Steinhauser, Jr. had been chairman of the cemetery project. Also introduced, was Mrs. John Ater chairperson of the food committee. This committee had been working since September, 1975 planning the reunion.

RESTORATION — Shown at the Zion Baptist Cemetery are descendants of George Ater after restoration of the monument of Abraham Ater who died in 1855. He was a veteran of the War of 1812. From the left are David Reed, Joyce Dennis, Ula Jean Metzler and Ruth Steinhauser.

A bronze DAR marker was taken to Zion Baptist cemetery to decorate the grave of George Ater by three DAR members, Mrs. Ruth Steinhauser and Mrs. Ula Jean Ater Metzler, Pickaway Plains Chapter, and Joyce Dennis of the Rebecca Galloway Chapter.

David Reed, veteran of the Korean Conflict, placed a 1776 marker obtained from the Veteran's Service Office on the grave. Also placed on the grave by Don Hyer, florist, was a wreath of magnolia leaves with Bicentennial ribbon and George Ater's name across the front. At the top were two 1776 flags.

The history of the Ater family was given by the Honorable Kenneth B. Ater, presiding Judge of Common Pleas Court of Lawrence County, Ironton.

The oldest relative present was Mrs. Eva Ater McCormick of Clarksburg. She is 90 years young. In a newspaper article written in 1886 concerning the Ater Reunion, Eva was the youngest member present. Kelly Doyle, two month old daughter of Richard and Krista Ater Doyle of Clarksburg, was the youngest relative present.

three of her descendants representing four generations. Standing beside her is Jeffrey Metzler of the seventh generation. Behind them are Glen E. Ayer of the fifth generation and Ula Jean Metzler of the 6th.

Brief greetings were given by the relatives from out of the state, Joe Ater, Alamogordo, N.M.; Norma Ater, Galesburg, Ill.; Dick Ater, Baltimore, Md.; Gordon Ater, Palmdale, Calif.;

Fair Flower Shows Themes Are Listed

The 1976 Pickaway County Fair Flower Shows will be held Aug. 2 and 4. All entries are to be in place by noon each day.

Theme for the Monday Show is "Ye All Come To The Fair" and on Wednesday, "Our Heritage."

Anyone in the Circleville shopping area is invited to participate. Schedules may be obtained by calling 474-2917.

Ray Ater, Louisville, Ky.; June Fay Ater Wilson, Highland Beach, Fla.; Gene Peck, Agenta, Ill.

Mrs. Hazel Yeatts, Pickaway County Recorder, was thanked for all the help she gave the committee in finding the early historical information available in her office concerning George Ater.

The afternoon program closed with group singing of "God Bless America."

The remainder of the day was spent playing games organized by Terry and Mary Ater, visiting, and viewing the renovated tombstone of George Ater at the Zion Baptist Cemetery. The main attraction of the day was everyone studying the large posters showing the generations of Jacob, Abraham, Isaac, Samuel, and William Ater, sons of George Ater. These posters were prepared by Dr. David Ater and Mrs. Bernice Hulse.

Joseph Austin Vincent, professional glass engraver, of Toledo, formerly of the Williamsport community, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Vincent, grandson of Zephtha and Mary Ater Vincent, designed a frosted and clear engraved crystal vase to be presented to the Pickaway County Historical Society in honor of George Ater. The inscription reads: Saluting - Virginia Veterans of the American Revolution - Presented by the Descendants of George Ater. Mr. Vincent is presenting this crystal piece in memory of the Charles Noble Family, the Frank Dunn Family, and the Pearl Vincent Family.

Application for recognition of the George Ater cemetery project has been made with the Ross County - Chillicothe Bicentennial Commission.

Miss Marilyn Marshall Weds Vittorio Pisciotta

MR. AND MRS. VITTORIO PISCIOTTA

Miss Marilyn Kay Marshall and Mr. Vittorio M. Pisciotta were united in marriage 2:30 p.m., July 3, in Community United Methodist Church. The Rev. David Frazer officiated the double ring service before the altar adorned with an arrangement of white stock, baby's breath, white carnations, apricot roses, and sprenger, flanked with seven branch candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Roy C. Marshall, 1074 Dunkle Road, and the late Mr. Roy C. Marshall. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Pisciotta, of Piqua.

Mr. Donald Metzler, organist, and Miss JoAnn Brink, vocalist, presented a program of special selections preceding the wedding.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Glen T. Marshall, and given in marriage by her mother. She was attired in a white silk organza formal length gown trimmed with beaded alencon lace at the empire waistline, V-neckline and in motifs on the bishop sleeves. A chapel length train flowed gracefully from the waistline at the back of the A-line skirt. The bride's bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a lace and seed pearl profile headpiece. She carried a cascading bouquet of white snowdrift pompons, white miniature carnations, white roses, baby's breath, orange roses, stephanotis and sprenger. Her only jewelry was diamond and pearl earrings, a keepsake from her maternal grandmother.

Miss Susan Marshall was bridesmaid for her sister. She wore an apricot polyester knit floor length gown with an empire waistline and V-neckline edged in white lace. She carried an apricot silk rose with baby's breath and an off-white bow and streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Deborah Marshall, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Mary Pisciotta, a sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor and carried matching flowers.

Mr. Ken Plato performed the duties of best man for his friend. Mr. Chris Pisciotta and Mr. V. Charles Pisciotta, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Mrs. Marshall selected for her daughter's wedding a mint green full length chiffon gown with matching accessories. Mrs. Pisciotta wore a pastel pink knit full length gown with white accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of apricot roses with baby's breath.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Christopher Pisciotta, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Miss Roberta Fink and Mrs. Della Wertman. Miss Suzanne Spalding presided at the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a two piece sleeveless knit dress in red, white and navy blue, with navy blue accessories. The couple now resides in Oxford.

The bride graduated in 1972 from Circleville High School and in 1976 from Miami University in Oxford where she received a BS degree in Home Economics. She plans to teach and is active in the American Home Economics Association.

The bridegroom, a 1972 graduate of Boylan High School in Rockford, Ill., and Miami University, Oxford, in 1976 where he received a BS degree in Finance and Marketing. He will attend Miami University Graduate School of Business.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Boulder, Colo.; Rockford, Ill.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Piqua, Cincinnati, Wilmington, Washington C.H., Wheelersburg, Medina, Oxford and Columbus, Ohio.

An honored guest at the wedding was Mrs. Mary Lamia, grandmother of the bridegroom. She wore a floor length mint green gown and a corsage of white carnations centered with an apricot rose.

Girl Wants Both — Love And Money

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged to be married to a beautiful woman, when my business failed. When I went broke, my fiancée started dating other men. She came right out and told me that she couldn't stand the thought of being poor. She likes to go to the best places, which I can't afford right now.

She has money and could well afford to take us both out, but she refuses to spend her own money.

She lets other men wine and dine her, but afterwards she comes to my place for her love.

Am I wrong to still love this woman?

80th Birthday Feted At Dinner

TERRACE REFRESHER

Cucumber Canapes, swiss cheese tarts, fruit punch.

CUCUMBER CANAPES

3-ounce package cream cheese, at room temperature

3 1/2-ounce can brisling sardines, well-drained

1 tablespoon lemon juice

2 teaspoons finely grated onion, pulp and juice

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Small fresh bread rounds

Thinly sliced cucumber, pared if waxed

Mayonnaise

Pimento cutouts

Blend together the cream cheese, sardines, lemon juice, onion, salt and Worcestershire until as smooth as possible. Chill, tightly covered, overnight to blend flavors and have firm. Makes a couple of tablespoons less than a cup. Shortly before serving, spread sardine mixture on bread rounds; top each with a slice of cucumber, a dot of mayonnaise and a pimiento cutout. (Tiny canape cutters make pretty cutouts in varied shapes.)

The number of canapes made will depend on how thickly the sardine mixture is spread. The bread rounds should be a little larger than the largest slice of cucumber.

At times I feel like a big fool, but I can't help myself.

DEAR STUD: It's not "wrong" to love anyone. Your problem is that you feel that you are being used. And you are. Unless, of course, you are getting as much out of the relationship as she is.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were divorced a month ago after 35 years of marriage. One week after the divorce was final, he announced he was going to marry a young woman with whom he has been going with for nearly 10 years.

We have a 33-year-old married son who I know disapproved of the way his father has treated me, and he's said he has no intentions of becoming friendly with his father's new wife.

Feeling as he does, should he attend the wedding? And what should his feelings be? How should he act toward his father and this new wife?

DEAR EX: How your son "feels" and how he should behave toward his father and the new wife is for your son to decide.

DEAR ABBY: A bachelor wrote to say that whenever he applied for a job, as soon as they learned he was over 30 and unmarried they lost interest in him. He claimed that his single status also made him suspect as a homosexual, which he is not.

Abby, as a personnel manager for many years, I have interviewed hundreds of job applicants, and if two equally qualified men apply for a job and one is married and the other is single, the married man usually gets the job.

Why? Not because the single man may be a homosexual, but because without a wife, family or "roots," a man is more apt to quit. Not so with a married man. His family obligations make it necessary for him to stick with his job.

Training employees is very expensive, so you can't fault business for giving preference to the applicant who is more likely to stay with the job.

DEAR J.M.C.: Thank you for giving the other side of the picture.

Use Of Religious Vernacular Widens

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The 16th century Protestant reformer, Martin Luther, said he put the Bible in the people's language so God could speak to them, and also put hymns in the people's language so they could speak to God.

That use of the vernacular tongue in Christian worship no longer distinguishes Protestants from Roman Catholics, who began the practice 10 years ago, but Luther's heirs — the Lutherans — still are tuning up the vocalizing to God — their songs.

The aim is to "enliven our worship," says to Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Lutheran Church in America, which this week opened its eight-day biennial convention in Boston.

The 3.1-million-member denomination is the first of three major Lutheran bodies in this country to take up a proposed new joint worship book and hymnal, drawn up in nine years' work by an inter-Lutheran commission.

The goal, projected for completion in 1978, is the first common worship book for all three major branches of Lutherans — nearly 9 million of them.

Not all has been harmony in the task, however, even in choosing the songs to include. But the experts have made some concessions to popular tastes in an effort to achieve it.

The hymns should be doctrinally sound, observes Dr. Marshall, but he adds, "As someone has said, 'People sing only in the shower and in church' — so hymns must also be singable."

In response to congregational surveys, several popular hymns not originally included have been added, such as "Onward Christian Soldiers," "What A Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus."

Also added, in response to popular demand, were some gospel songs such as "Amazing Grace" and "How Great Thou Art," made popular by Billy Graham's crusades, and some contemporary songs such as "Let us Break Bread Together on Our Knees."

However, some widely liked hymns weren't chosen, including "Rise Up, O Men of God."

It was the only one of the 50 hymns most frequently used by Lutherans not included. Reasons given for ruling it out were its male-dominated sexist language and its theologically incorrect phrases saying the church is "unequal to its task" and that the people "make it great."

The new compilation of 510 hymns retains two-thirds of the 315 hymns in the present hymnbook of 1968.

Ancient kings required that those attending court wear special garb, such as robes of elaborate design and in expensive fabrics, according to the American Formalwear Association.

Plan Establishment Of Mars Colony

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Officials from Iowa's 99 counties say they want to establish an ideal county government, free of state and federal interference. But they figure they have to go 200 million miles to do it.

In a unanimous vote Thursday, the State Association of Counties adopted a resolution to colonize Mars and make the Red Planet Iowa's 100th county.

"It's a not-too-lighthearted approach to just call attention to the problem that local government is being dominated by state government and the federal government," said executive director Don Cleveland. "We just need a little breathing room."

Ralph Juhl, president of the association, admitted that some details — such as transportation to the new colony — haven't been worked out yet.

Juhl said officials had agreed that the first item of business would be deciding where to put the courthouse. "Naturally, we have to find a centralized location," Juhl said. Then he seemed to forget for a moment the new county's independent nature.

"Our site selection will be dependent upon the filing of an environmental impact statement," he said.

Cleveland had told the 427 county officials at a workshop here that Mars would be "a true independent colony, free to function without federal and state spending mandates."

Cleveland said he and Juhl decided to colonize Mars after hearing reports from the Viking 1 spacecraft.

"We decided that since county officials have all these problems dropped on their heads, we could take advantage to move county government to a setting where we wouldn't be hampered by state and federal strings," he said.

The resolution invites other county officials from throughout the United States and the world to join in the government of Mars County.

Boy's Life, the official magazine of the Boy Scouts of America, is also written in Braille.

Road Superintendent Wins Reinstatement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In a decision released Wednesday, the state Personnel Board of Review ruled that a highway maintenance superintendent cannot be fired for giving away tons of state salt to local municipalities.

The decision reversed the transportation department's firing of Earl J. Ledford of Delroy.

Ledford is one of three state officials fired for giving away state salt and later ordered back on the state payroll by the board.

Board members said that Ledford, while serving as superintendent of the state highway garage in Carrollton, ordered salt loaded on trucks from the villages of Carrollton, Malvern and Magnolia in 1974 and 1975.

The board ruled that the salt was needed during a heavy snow when emergencies existed and traffic was backed up due to snow and ice on the roads.

Preferences

People who are sailboat buffs look down their noses at powerboats. Conversely, those who prefer powerboats think there is too little action in the sport of sailing. It's a matter of personal preference.

Fortunately, there is enough water in the world to permit both kinds of boating. Also, there is enough of everything on this earth to enable us to live in dignity while doing personally what we like best — IF we use our resources properly . . . and remember to consider our fellowman.

Personal preferences . . . consideration. These two things apply to boating, to be sure. They also apply to choice of a mate, where to live, kind of occupation, and where and how to worship. You have freedom of choice. Don't forget to use it.

On Books And Activities At The Library

Everyone is interested in making money! While the Pickaway County Public Library can't guarantee to make you a financier, we do have a good collection of books to help you manage your financial affairs better. One of our latest acquisitions came to us through the generosity of a loyal patron.

"The Value Line Investment Survey" is a highly recommended research tool for those people interested in stocks as an investment. It researches 1600 of the leading stocks and is kept updated with weekly analysis of current trends. It projects future market activity and offers past performance comparisons. Don't overlook this valuable aid when planning your investments.

The concern with things in the future also extends beyond the realm of finance. Energy is an important consideration in today's world. New books on new ways to conserve natural resources are being published at a rapid rate. "Solar Homes And Sun Heating" by George Daniels tells you how to get the free energy available from the sun. It is written for the layman and can be easily understood and readily applied.

"Energy: Power For People" by Laurence Pringle goes a step further and examines wind power and geothermal power along with some thoughts on ecology.

Area Safety Speaking Contest Held In WCH

On July 15 fourteen 4-H'ers representing 10 counties in South Central Ohio gathered at the Area Extension Center in Washington C.H. to participate in the Annual Area 4-H Safety Speaking Contest. Kim Strous, 16 year old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Strous 11339 Spangler Road, representing Pickaway County giving a speech titled "Home Inspection for Fire Prevention." Also representing the County was Jeff Karshner, 18 year old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Karshner, Route 2, Mt. Sterling. His speech was titled "Motorcycle Safety."

The Annual 4-H Speak Up for Safety contest is sponsored jointly by the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service of the Ohio State University and Westernfield Center, Ohio. Mrs. Kay Leonhart represented Westernfield and made the final certificate and trophy presentations. This is the 29th year that Westernfield Companies has co-sponsored this contest.

Kay Newman of Clark County and Roger Rhonemus of Adams County were the girl and boy selected as the Area winner. Alternates chosen were Sheryl Pendleton of Ross Co. and Mark Babb of Clinton Co.

As area winners Kay and Roger will represent the Washington C. H. Extension Area in the State 4-H Speak Up for Safety Contest. That event will be held Friday, August 27 at the State Highway Patrol Academy Auditorium on the Ohio State Fairgrounds. Winners in the event will receive a trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Illinois later in the year.

Government Secrecy Comes Under Fire

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 1977 legislature may be asked to approve an amendment to the state Constitution wiping out secrecy in government.

The Constitution gives leaders of the House and Senate discretion to call secret meetings.

A legislative study committee voted Wednesday to draft a proposed amendment. The committee will consider it again Aug. 3.

The committee also is considering legislation to open meetings of all government agencies and require private agencies to conduct public meetings when programs receiving federal funds are discussed. A similar bill died in the legislature this year.

Semi Driver Injured In Accident

A semi-truck driver suffered minor injuries when a tire blew out on his rig, causing him to lose control.

William A. Jones Sr., 36, Louisburg, N.C., suffered a bump to his head and was referred to a doctor for treatment by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Jim Dixon.

The accident occurred on Route 23, a quarter of a mile south of the Radcliff Road intersection, 3:55 p.m. Thursday. Jones was driving north on Route 23 when the right front tire blew-out. The rig went off the right side for 80 feet, crashed into a ditch, and traveled 58 feet further before coming to rest in a field of wheat stubble owned by George Miller, Route 1.

Jones was hauling a trailer-load of carpeting.

New Talks With URW Arranged

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — U.S. secretary of Labor William Usery Jr. is reported trying to arrange a resumption of negotiations within the next few days in the three-month-old rubber industry strike.

However, neither Usery nor negotiators for the two sides would give details of their discussions.

Peter Bommarito, president of the United Rubber Workers, headquartered in Akron, did confirm that Usery called him from Washington Thursday and said Usery told him he had been in contact with industry representatives.

Talks with the nation's Big Four tire producers broke off two weeks ago after the URW rejected the latest offer from Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. negotiators in Cleveland.

The union had focused on the Firestone talks to set the industry pattern, and when those talks recessed, negotiators for Goodyear, Goodrich and Uniroyal also went home.

Bommarito has been asking for a resumption of talks. The companies have asked the union to reconsider the latest offer as a basis on which to resume.

Usery took a personal hand in the talks over the July Fourth holiday weekend, when the industry came up with its final offer, estimated at a better than 30 per cent increase in wages and fringes.

URW demands originally amounted to a 42 per cent increase over a three-year period, including pay hikes totaling $1.65 an hour.

Instant Ticket Sales $26 Million

CLEVELAND (AP) — Instant lottery ticket sales have reached $26 million in the first four weeks of operation, a state lottery official says.

"Our new game has exceeded our own initial projections and accomplished this without causing a noticeable effect on sales for the weekly 50-cent game," said Gerald J. Patronite, executive director of the Ohio lottery.

He added that $11.5 million has been disbursed to some three million winners and more than $11 million generated for the general fund of Ohio.

Patronite said almost half the money received by the state treasurer from the lottery goes towards education, and the remainder to other services.

Handicapped Get Consideration

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's estimated 400,000-500,000 handicapped citizens are getting this year what some officials say are long overdue considerations that can help them live fuller lives.

Effective today with a new law, the legislature adopted a "bill of rights" for handicapped citizens. It generally makes it illegal for anyone to discriminate against the handicapped in such areas as employment, housing, and the extension of credit.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, at the same time, has announced that by late this summer, the Bureau of Employment Services will begin hiring handicapped workers to find jobs for other handicapped.

Sponsors said the law, nearly five years in the making, is long overdue, and represents only the beginning of an effort to do away with obstacles in the way of full citizenship for the handicapped.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, who sponsored legislation earlier to facilitate construction of ramped curbing for wheel chairs, said he now wants to require all public buildings to be accessible to handicapped citizens.

Meshel, also the sponsor of the latest statute, said it goes part of the way but that costs are going to be a problem. He said the accessibility program might have to be "phased in."

Today's law provides a special reduction in corporate taxes for employers who remove architectural barriers that make it difficult or impossible for the handicapped to move.

Otherwise, the "bill of rights"—similar to those provided in earlier bans of discrimination on the basis of race, sex, or national origin—prohibits discrimination in employment, the use of public accommodations, housing practices, housing assisted by the Ohio Housing Development Board, the extension of credit, and the issuance of insurance policies.

The law also expands penalties under civil rights statutes, increases from one to two years the period in which the Civil Rights Commission may issue complaints, requires licensed driver education courses to include teachers for the handicapped, and entitles the handicapped to special license plates, certain overtime parking privileges, and, by Nov. 1, 1980, special provisions in voter polling places and registration facilities.

Further, it directs the transportation director to make rules facilitating use of mass transportation by the handicapped.

Meshel's bill takes effect almost at the same time as the new program

Man Beaten, Coal Production Robbed Of $150 Cash Nearly At Standstill

Circleville Police Ptl. Bill Pontious is investigating the beating of a Circleville man, who apparently lost $150 to his assailants.

Gilbert Stevens, 474 Half Ave., was attacked by several people outside Bert's Bar, according to the report, 6:10 p.m. Thursday.

Stevens told Pt. Pontious that the assailants took $150 from him.

Ten shrub-like trees were taken from 357 Edwards Road, according to Pearson Ranck, 195 Meadow Drive. The trees are valued at $55.90.

William Withers, 364½ E. Franklin St., told police that his home was entered Thursday.

Police found pry marks around a window. However, nothing appeared to have been taken.

Muskie Receives Ford Campaign Dun

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — In a political year, everyone is fair game for a request for a campaign contribution.

"Dear Fellow American," began the letter from "Gerald R. Ford, Washington" to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, seeking campaign funds for, among others, his Republican challenger, Robert A. G. Monks.

The form letter arrived at Muskie's Portland office last week while the senator was being considered by Jimmy Carter as a possible running mate, Muskie aide Larry Benoit said Thursday.

"Never in the history of our nation has there been a greater need for fiscal responsibility or for senators who have the courage to pursue it," the letter read.

Benoit said that Muskie, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, would practice "fiscal responsibility" by declining to contribute.

Kissinger Tones

Down Visitation

SEATTLE (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who has been criticized in Congress for the grand style in which he travels, toned things down a bit for a visit here.

The secretary often takes over entire floors of the major hotel in whatever city he is visiting, personally staying in the largest and most expensive suite in the building.

But in Seattle, Kissinger specifically requested a lower-priced room in the Olympic Hotel, hotel executive Gene Thissen said. He got the $125 per day Governor's Suite, while the $300 a day Presidential Suite remained empty. Aides declined comment on the display of frugality.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Much of the southern West Virginia coalfield was at a standstill as a wildcat strike idled more than 20,000 miners.

There were indications Thursday that dissidents may travel to the state's northern coal mining region to begin shutting down operations there.

The strike has closed mines in most of Kanawha, Boone and Logan counties. In addition, operations in Raleigh, Clay, Fayette, Nicholas Wyoming and Greenbrier were affected by roving pickets.

Beginning as a minor dispute at a Cedar Coal Co., the walkout began spreading Monday after a federal judge levied a $50,000 fine for contempt against members of a local in Kanawha County.

Members of the local had ignored a restraining order that arose out of the original dispute, a squabble between the union and company over a dispatcher's job. In addition to the flat fine, the local faces a penalty of $25,000 a day for every day men are off the job.

As roving pickets traveled the coalfields turning miners away at scores of deep mines, dissidents handed out leaflets and bought advertisements in newspapers.

"We are sick and tired of the federal courts taking the side of the coal operators. Hundreds of locals all throughout the coalfields know how unjust the use of federal injunctions

Dog Handler

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Mary Elizabeth Rayner, 22, says her job at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., ideally combines her love of animals and her interest in law enforcement.

Airman I.C. Rayner is the first female dog handler to be stationed at the base's Department of Defense Dog Center.

Before joining the Air Force, Miss Rayner studied police administration at Grand Rapids Junior College and was a member of the Kent County Sheriff's Department cadet program.

Name Director Of Ford Publicity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief Pentagon spokesman, William I. Greener Jr., has been named as director of communications for President Ford's campaign committee.

Greener, 51, will resign his Pentagon post on Aug. 1, and start the new job on the same date. He is a former deputy press secretary for Ford.

Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen, said the appointment of Greener is part of a plan to increase the campaign staff to prepare for the fall presidential campaign if Ford wins the nomination in August.

Peter Kaye, who has been spokesman for the campaign committee, said last week that he would resign after the GOP convention. He was described by associates as upset by plans to create an information director's post and thus supersede him.

Nessen said that Greener will try to talk Kaye into staying on the committee staff.

Greener will have authority over the press section, the advertising campaign and the research division of the President Ford Committee.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

When the clock hits 6:30 p.m. Aug. 6, people will be treated to a rare sight—Despite the early hour there will be a section of Columbus that will be filled with stars—it will be Ohio State University Stadium and the glittering array will not be “heavenly bodies”—They will be the “muscular bodies” of some of the best football players in the State of Ohio.

That's right—We are talking about the annual Ohio High School All-Star football game, sponsored by the Ohio Coaches Association. The proceeds from this is used to help provide college scholarships to some of the high school gridgers and is a worthwhile cause.

This could be the year of decision for the annual classic and it will all depend on the support the fans supply. The game was moved to the huge OSU “Horseshoe” last year and drew a disappointing attendance of 7,500. It had been formerly held in Fawcett Stadium in Canton where it had proved successful.

Another lack of interest and poor attendance in this year's classic could not only put it in jeopardy in Columbus—But—it could mean the end of the event—And anytime we lose a sporting event—Sports die a little.

All of us in Pickaway County have a special interest in this game as Circleville's All-Ohio tailback Biff Bumgarner will be bursting and blasting yardage for the South team.

Just watching this young man in action is worth the slight admission price and people who have never had the good fortune to see Biff tear up turf are in for a treat. He makes things happen and creates an electrifying atmosphere whenever he gets his hands on the football.

Biff is just one of many fine young gladiators that will take the field August 6 and we will certainly be there to watch them perform.

It's a nice place to take the kids and let's hope that our Central District fans turn out in droves to show the rest of the state that we are the football center of Ohio.

Our “fearless” forecast—As much as we would like to see the College All-Stars win we don't think they can come up with a theft that will make them “Steelers.”

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Blue, Chisox Stop Tigers, 9-3

By HERSHEL NISSENSON

The last time Blue Moon Odom started an American League game he fired a two-hit shutout for the Cleveland Indians against the Kansas City Royals and three days later he was traded to the National League.

This time he hopes to stick around a little longer. The one-time Oakland A's star, dropped by the Atlanta Braves just before the start of the season, is back in the majors with the Chicago White Sox. Thursday night he made his first AL start since June 4, 1975.

He threw six shutouts before tiring in the seventh but was credited with the triumph as the White Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers 9-3 in the first half of a doubleheader. Detroit bounced back to take the nightcap 5-1 with rookie Jason Thompson socking his 13th homer.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Oakland A's nipped the New York Yankees 6-5, the Kansas City Royals shaded the Milwaukee Brewers 3-1, the Baltimore

Orioles edged the Texas Rangers 4-3, the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels 7-5 and the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Boston Red Sox 5-1.

"It's like starting all over for me," said the 31-year-old Odom, who debuted in the big leagues in 1964 and did some of his best pitching in six World Series appearances and four playoff games.

Resurrected from the minors a couple of weeks ago, Odom lasted 62-3 innings, yielding eight hits and three runs while walking one and striking out three.

A's 6, Yankees 5

Shortstop Bert Campaneris, who helped the Yankees tie the score in the seventh inning when he forgot the number of outs and neglected to complete an easy double play, drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the ninth.

The Yankees got two solo home runs from Oscar Gamble and one from Graig Nettles while Joe Rudi slammed a two-run shot for Oakland.

After 83 victories in the major leagues, you'd think that another one more or less wouldn't matter to Carl Morton.

But it did Thursday night — it was his first of the 1976 season.

"I was standing behind the fence in right field for the last two outs," said Morton. "When I saw Rob Beloit make the last out, I said to myself: 'It finally happened.'"

Before Atlanta's 7-1 victory over Montreal, Morton had lost eight straight games dating back to 1975. His 0-7 record this season was a situation quite foreign to Morton, a reliable starter used to winning in double figures each season.

"It has been a long, hard year on me," said the right-hander. "It's been tough because I have been a big winner in the last few years — you know, years with 15, 16, 17 wins.

"But there have been seven games this year where we have been leading in the late innings and then weren't able to hold the lead. Then I figured I would just have to go out there and do it all myself. I put more pressure on my pitching and it didn't work. When I did that, I wasn't pitching the way I should have been. Tonight, I made the pitches when I had to."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0; the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4 and the San Diego Padres edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in 11 innings.

Ken Henderson eased the way for Morton's victory by driving in four runs with a homer and a single. Henderson drilled a two-run homer off Woody Fryman, 8-8, in the fourth inning. He chased Fryman to the showers with a single that drove in Jim Wynn and Willie Montanez in the sixth inning.

GIRLS MAJOR SOFTBALL
Scioto Valley Bowling 20,

DuPont 7

Leslie Jones hurled the win that gave Scioto Valley Bowling the league championship with Peggy Hoffman and Toni Parish providing some timely hitting. Chrisha Hill was on the mound for DuPont.

Lisa Jones, Leslie Jones, Tracy Weffler, Teri Edler and Paula Brown all had extra base raps for the winners while Becky Eveland, Deanna Geis and Shelly Lochbaum rapped key hits.

Barb Armstrong, Jennie Armstrong and Sherry Pontius belted extra base hits for DuPont while Chrisha Hill, Kelly McKinney and Beth Armstrong added hitting power.

Pizza Hut 9, Pro Shop 7

Pizza Hut tallied all nine runs in the top of seventh inning to gain the win and eliminate Pro Shop from the race for the league title. Mary Kay Marshall pitched the victory while Carol Moore was on the hill for Pro Shop.

Becky Rhodes was the big hitter for the Pizza Hut with a grand slam homer and double, Becky Peters, Kim Hill and Mary Kay Marshall each slammed a double while Chris Wellman, Marsha Lutz, Kathy Esposito and Diane Weaver rapped key hits.

Carol Moore and Brenda Bell both belted a triple, Kim Smith added two doubles, Nancy Archer and Brenda Bell each slugged a double while Pam Crider, Theresa Isaac and Faith Redman all had timely hits.

GIRLS MINOR SOFTBALL
Yates Motors 14, Radcliff Sheriffs 6

Liz Cook, Susan Harrison and P. Smith all belted three hits to lead the Yates attack, Teri Davis rapped two hits while Jill McGlone, Shauna Fausnaugh, Trina Mumaw, Valerie Yocum and Robin Hartinger each added a key rap.

T. Ruffe paced Radcliff's with five hits, C. Fee and S. Goldberg both belted three, T. Haist and D. Pennington slugged two hits apiece while J. Hoover and T. MacFadden both added a hit.

Yates Motors 15, PPG 9

Jill McGlone and Liz Cook both rapped four hits to lead Yates, Teri Davis and Robin Hartinger had three apiece, Shauna Fausnaugh and Susan Harrison both cracked two while Valerie Yocum added one.

Mary Wolfe paced PPG with three hits while Nanette Martin, Robin Rowland, Tammy Albright, Amy McCain and Angie Case each belted twq and Cindy Wellman added one. The game ended when Liz Cook and

Royals 3, Brewers 1

Paul Splittorff, with help from Mark Littell in the seventh, set a Royals record with his eighth consecutive triumph while Buck Martinez drove in two runs with a pair of ground balls and Tom Poquette delivered an RBI single.

Orioles 4, Rangers 3

Reggie Jackson homered for the fifth game in a row, one short of Frank Howard's AL record, and his drive off Gaylord Perry to start the ninth inning snapped a tie. The homer was Jackson's 15th of the season and seventh in the last nine games.

Indians 7, Angels 5

Charlie Spikes keyed a five-run first inning with a grand slam homer off Frank Tanana and Boog Powell hit a solo blast to pace the Indians over the Angels.

Twins 5, Red Sox 1

Rookie Pete Redfern held Boston to four hits over the first seven innings while the Twins tagged Luis Tiant for four runs in 1 2-3 innings.

Phillies 3, Pirates 0

Jay Johnstone's two-run double keyed a three-run first inning and Philadelphia went on to beat Pittsburgh and boost its lead in the National League East to 11 games.

Philadelphia left-hander Tom Underwood checked the Pirates on seven hits before leaving in the ninth inning in favor of Ron Reed. Bruce Kison, 7-6, took the loss. He gave up only three hits after the four-hit first inning and left for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Cubs 8, Cards 4

Jose Cardenal's three hits led a 13-hit Chicago attack and five St. Louis errors helped the Cubs score five runs enroute to their triumph over the Cardinals.

Mick Kelleher and Manny Trillo each contributed two hits in support of Steve Stone, who evened his record at 2-2 with relief help from Mike Garman and Joe Coleman.

Padres 5, Dodgers 4

Willie Davis' scoring fly ball in the top of the 11th inning broke a 4-4 tie and gave San Diego its victory over Los Angeles.

Dodger reliever Elias Sosa, 4-6, walked opposing pitcher Butch Metzger, 7-0, leading off the 11th. Tito Fuentes sacrificed and Metzger took third when Sosa threw wildly to second on a pickoff attempt. Davis followed with his sacrifice fly to center field.

Piranha Swimmers Swamp Strong Zanesville Team

The Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team made it three wins in a row and four of five this summer, as they defeated a deceptively strong swim club from Zanesville by a 394 to 239 score at the local pool.

"That meet was tougher than the score would indicate," said head coach Jim Shea, "our swimmers did an excellent job, and I'm glad we won it." Circleville's win, threw them into a three-way tie for 1st place in the Mt. Pleasant Swim League, as Chillicothe defeated Hilltop in the Chillicothe pool. Hilltop is the only team in the league to have defeated Circleville, and Circleville has defeated Chillicothe.

Circleville swimmers won 12 of 20 relay events and 26 of 46 individual events. Individual winners for Circleville were: Ann Titus, Jeff Davies and Cindy Sparks three (3) each; Jona Duval, Bob Shaffer, Mike McCrady, Mark Beck, and Bill Lyle two each; Dan Mets, Cindy Johnson, Eugene Justus, Norma Moore, Lee Huskey, Jay Dorff and Rogann Bowers with one each.

On Tuesday Circleville is scheduled to resume a rained out meet with the Lancaster Swim Club in the Ted Lewis Park Pool. The meet, started on July 15th will resume at the exact point it was rained out, with Circleville in the lead by the score of 41 to 24. Meet time is 5:30 p.m.

Billy Brooks Ends Holdout From Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Oklahoma wide receiver Billy Brooks, the surprise No. 1 draft pick of the Cincinnati Bengals, ended his holdout Thursday, signing a long-term contract with the National Football League club.

Brooks, the first wide receiver taken in the draft last April, was reportedly seeking a contract in excess of the package paid to two-time Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin.

DIVING FOR GOLD — Jennifer Chandler, 17, of Lincoln, Ala., dives past the crowd during women's diving competition at the Olympic games in Montreal, Que. She won a gold medal in the event.

Unser To Race At Mansfield

MANSFIELD — Al Unser, current holder of the ultimate record single-lap performance at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course with a 105.00 mph sprint last year, has joined the cast for the 14th Annual Valvoline Buckeye Cup Formula 5000 race here Aug. 7-8.

Unser, a two-time Indianapolis 500 winner from Albuquerque, N.M., will drive a Lola T332 powered by a 550-horsepower Chevrolet engine owned by Californians Vel Miletich and Parnelli Jones.

Although his road racing performances had been limited to annual sprints up Pike's Peak, a mountain which three generations of Unsers have "owned" in their racing attempts, he took on the SCCA-USAC Formula 5000 circuit last season and finished a creditable third behind Brian Redman's Boraxo Lola and teammate Mario Andretti's similar car.

He qualified third fastest in his first attempt at Mid-Ohio's Buckeye Cup F-500 last August, and while running second in the feature race, cranked off his record performance on the final lap in a futile effort to catch Redman. In his first race of the 1976 season, he tied Redman for the fastest qualifying lap, raced in the lead for the latter part of the race and finished second, 6.8 seconds behind Alan Jones.

Vel's-Parnelli Jones team officials confirmed that Unser's Mid-Ohio appearance would be the last one of the 1976 season.

Another powerful all-American challenge to the North American-based series which has been dominated by British and "down under" drivers since 1970, is a two-car effort by the Interscope Racing Team for Hawaiian-born Danny Ongais.

Ongais, a former motorcycle racer and drag racing champion, has emerged as the top American driver in the 1976 season thus far with second, fourth and eighth place finishes in his pair of Interscope Lola T332C's.

Ongais tested Mid-Ohio's twisting

2.4-mile layout earlier this week and came percariously close to Unser's track record.

The Valvoline Buckeye Cup weekend will include the F-5000, a $10,800 Robert Bosch VW Gold Cup race for Formula Super Vees, a $5,000 Scirocco-Bilstein Cup race for VW Sciroccos, a Goodyear Motor Sports Club corral with Johnny Rutherford as guest host, and a Kodak Camera Day.

Tribe Tops Angels, 7-5

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charlie Spikes smiled and squeezed tight on a new-looking baseball almost disappearing in his meaty left hand.

"That's the first grand slam I've ever hit and I'm going to keep this ball," the Cleveland Indians' right-fielder explained as he enjoyed the feel of Thursday night's 7-5 victory over the California Angels.

Spikes, 25, came up with the four-run blast to cap Cleveland's five-run first inning. He added a pair of singles in three more at-bats as he continued the hot streak which gives evidence his 1½-year slump really ended.

Jeff Jancek of Westwood, N. J., and Stan Ford of Dayton, Ohio, will co-captain Army's 1976 football team at West Point, N.Y.

MONTREAL (AP) — Officials kept a wary watch on the Russians. The queen watched the princess. And most of the rest of the world watched Nadia.

It was the farewell performance in the XXI Olympic Games by the little girl who has won the hearts of the world, and 14-year-old Nadia Comaneci made it a beauty, so outstanding it even overshadowed a couple of major rows centering around the troubled Russians.

With perhaps one billion people watching on television, the lithe little 88-pounder, ponytail in place, racked up her sixth and seventh perfect scores — the perfect 10 that, before these Games, never had been awarded — and collected two more gold medals.

Out of the gymnasium, she remained as stoic as ever.

"I am not surprised. I knew if I persevered I would do well," the Romanian schoolgirl said before leaving for a Black Sea vacation with a haul of three gold medals — women's all-around, balance beam, uneven parallel bars — a silver for the team and a bronze in the floor exercise.

Nelli Kim of Russia, who collected golds in the floor exercise and vault, along with her second perfect score of the Games, was a little more outgoing and giggly.

"I haven't quite realized it yet," she said. "Maybe tomorrow or the next day it will come to me. I'm slow about these things sometimes."

They evenly divided the golds in last night's final events in women's gymnastics, but Kornelia Ender of East Germany and the American men swimmers continued to grab them all.

Miss Ender won the women's 100 meter butterfly in world record time of 1:00.13 then headed for the dressing room.

"I changed my suit and there I was,"

'Pete' Riesen Becomes BGSU Backfield Coach

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — Armin "Pete" Riesen has resigned as head football coach at Heidelberg College to become backfield coach at Bowling Green State University, it was announced today.

During his five seasons at the Heidelberg helm, Riesen had a 33-17 record, including an 11-0 season in 1972 when the team won the Ohio Conference championship and the Stag Bowl.

Riesen also has served as the school's wrestling coach for nine years, during which time his teams had an 89-25-4 record.

Pitcher Mickey Lolich of the Mets began the National League baseball season with a 207-175 record with the Detroit Tigers in the American League.

U.S. Leads In Olympics Medals

she said. She was back on the starting block again. And again she won in world record time, 1:59.26 in the 200 meter freestyle. The triumphs came only 25 minutes apart and gave her four golds and the amazing East Germans' victories in all but one of the women's swimming events held.

Brian Goodell, a 17-year-old from Mission Viejo, Calif., and an American relay team also set world records in winning in the 400 meter freestyle and the 400 meter medley relay, remaining unbeaten in these Games. The American men now have won all nine swimming events competed, set world records in eight of them, collected six more silver medals and three bronze.

Overall, the United States now has a leading collection of 13 gold, 10 silver and five bronze. Russia is next with 9-12-7, East Germany has 9-7-6 and Romania, primarily on the verge and fire and grace of Nadia, has 3-2-2.

The Russians, who already have had a modern pentathlon competitor kicked out of the Games for cheating, swept the medals in individual saber but continue to be embroiled in controversy.

Tom Gompf, manager of the American diving team, told The Associated Press he had been approached by Russians earlier this year who proposed a deal to him through which the Soviets would have received judges' voting support for their female springboard diver, Irina Kalinina, in exchange for a promise to have Russian judges back Phil Boggs of the United States in the men's event.

Gompf said the Russians came to him because he had been a judge in the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich. He said he made it clear the deal was not accepted.

Gompf later said he was misquoted, but The Associated Press stuck by its report and said it refrained, at Gompf's request, from naming the Russians involved.

The international swimming federation, governing body for Olympic aquatic events, said its members feel "further explanations must be made by the individual who made the statement because the information is insufficient at this time."

And it added: "The bureau has set up checks on their judges to guard against prejudicial judging."

The swimming federation, through its president, Dr. Harold Henning, earlier in the day had threatened disciplinary action against the Russians, who wanted to pull out their water polo team because it had no chance to win the gold medal. Dr. Henning called it "poor sportsmanship."

The Russians later changed their minds and decided the water polo team will continue to compete.

In the men's diving, Capt. Boggs, the favorite from the Air Force Academy, survived some gamesmanship being played by the American and Russian judges and won the men's three meter springboard diving with 619.0 points, followed by Franco Kagnoto of Italy and Aleksandr Kosenkov of Russia.

Through many of the dives, the Russian consistently scored Boggs lower than the American judge and the American judge scored Kosenkov lower than the Russian judge.

In some other major activity, Princess Anne of Great Britain made her Olympic debut as a member of the equestrian team, another American boxer advanced over a Russian opponent and the American women's basketball team kept their medal hopes alive with an 89-75 victory over Canada.

Princess Anne, with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip looking on, had a spotty ride on a fiery, hard-to-handle horse in the first day of the dressage competition, which is based on harmony between horse and rider. She was judged seventh in a field of 24.

Sugar Ray Leonard, a 140-pound boxer from Palmer Park, Md., scored a lopsided decision over European champion Valery Limasov and became the second American to reach the round of 16.

Still, the Americans' chief medal producers remained the matchless men swimmers.

Eastwick Angered By Pitching Critics

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rawly Eastwick, who has emerged as the rock of the Cincinnati Reds relief corps at age 25, bristles at the bad-rapping aimed at the defending world champions' pitching staff.

"There is too much negativism being directed at us and it is affecting people," said Eastwick, referring to the Reds erratic bullpen.

The Reds departed for Atlanta today for a four-game weekend series with the Braves.

The young righthander is the only Cincinnati reliever with a winning record, while the rest of the bullpen has a combined record of 4-7. Eastwick has a 7-3 mark and a 2.71 earned run average, best among the relief crew.

"If you take a person and continually knock him down, soon he'll start believing he can't do the job," said Eastwick. "Physical existence depends on mental attitude. People should be saying positive things instead of knocking us."

With veteran Clay Carroll traded away to the Chicago White Sox, the Reds bullpen has had its shakey moments this season.

Normally-reliable Pedro Borbon is only 2-2, with a so-so 3.26 ERA. But the major disappointment has been lefthander Will McEnaney, who is 1-4 with a balloon-like 4.20 ERA. A year ago, McEnaney worked in 70 games, second highest in the league, finishing with a sparkling team-leading 2.47 ERA. Newcomer Rich Hinton, a lefthander who was called up from the minors when McEnaney went sour, has stumbled. He has a 1-1 record and a 7.62 ERA in nine appearances.

Eastwick, meanwhile, is picking up where he left off last season when he shared the National League lead in saves with 22, tying Al Hrabosky of St. Louis. His seven victories are one short of tying him as the Reds winningest pitcher this year. Four Cincinnati starters have eight victories.

"We are not bad. We have an earned run average (3.59) that is in the middle of all big league clubs. It is good enough with the offense we have," said Eastwick.

McEnaney's troubles bother Eastwick the most.

"He's pressing. I've talked to him about it," said Eastwick. "I'm not concentrating. I'm thinking of too many things. That's Will's problem too."

McEnaney says the 1976 season has been a complete turnaround of 1975.

"Last year, everything I did was right. This year, everything I do is wrong. It seems I give up a couple of hits and somehow those runs always score. If I'm pitching good I get taken out and the other pitcher lets the runs in. If I'm not pitching good, I'm left in and give up the runs myself. I can't hide. I can't do anything. I'm struggling," said McEnaney.

"I'm confused about what to do, what to think. If I could just turn my brain off, I'd be alright. I'd like to take my brain out and put it on the shelf," he added.

And what does Manager Sparky Anderson think about the pitching situation?

"I think it's good enough to win 45 more games. If 100 wins don't do it, see you in my dreams," he said.

Who Chooses

WASHINGTON (AP) — National political conventions are ordeals the first six presidents of the United States did not have to go through.

George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe and John Quincy Adams were all chosen by party caucus, a system that was changed in 1832 when party leaders refused to nominate Andrew Jackson as candidate for the then Democratic-Republican Party.

Three-time Democratic presidential nominee, William Jennings Bryan, had this to say about conventions: "The convention is, in a way, a photograph of the nation. All the great forces that exert a potential influence in our country are here in person or by proxy."

Family Operates Own Peace Corps

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Harris Mainster and his family operate their own peace corps.

Since 1971, the 39-year-old osteopathic surgeon, his wife and four daughters have spent their vacations doing volunteer work in some of the world's most remote areas.

They first went to Nicaragua because a colleague of Mainster told him he had a brother in a religious order there and knew medical help was needed. Upon return, another colleague told Mainster his medical services would be more than welcome in Liberia. So they went there for their next vacation. They went to India in 1973. Last summer, they lived several weeks amidst warring tribes in New Guinea.

Steelers Favored In All-Star Clash

CHICAGO (AP) — Terry Bradshaw and the two-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers are 15-point favorites tonight when they tangle with a strong-running, strong-defensive College All-Star squad.

The midsummer football classic in Soldier Field will be televised nationally by ABC, 9:30 p.m., EDT, but will be blacked out locally because it is not a sellout.

All-Star mentor Ara Parseghian says that if "we can play an error-free game, the fans are in for a surprise ... Pittsburgh, a very sound football team, is going to have its hands full."

"We have to get off to a good start," said Parseghian, who resigned at Notre Dame a year ago because of health reasons. "We've been close the last two years and there's not that large a separation between us and the Steelers. I like that underdog role and I think the All-Star squad does, too."

The last time the All-Stars upset the National Football League champions was in 1963 when Coach Otto Graham's youngsters stunned the late Vince Lombardi and his Green Bay Packers 20-17. The pros have won the game 30 times, the collegians nine, with two ties.

Missing will be quarterback Richard Todd of Alabama, No. 1 choice of the New York Jets and the first signal caller to go in the pro draft. Todd did not report to All-Star camp.

Parseghian does have three other quarterbacks, each with a special type of skill but each admittedly having minor shortcomings.

The All-Stars coach has not announced his starter from among Mike Kruczek, who set an all-time pass completion percentage record of .673 in three years at Boston College; Craig Penrose of San Diego State, who led the nation in passing last season with 15 touchdown tosses and 2,660 yards, and Jeb Blount of Tulsa, who hit for 13 TDs in 1975.

In the offensive backfield, All-Americans Archie Griffin of Ohio State, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner, and Chuck Muncie of California power a corps of runners that also includes Tony Galbreath of Missouri, Joe Washington of Oklahoma and Mike Pruitt of Purdue.

With Joe Greene and the Steelers' front four doing the rushing, whoever quarterbacks the All-Stars must get rid of the ball fast. Receivers include Brian Bashnagel of Ohio State, Duriel Harris of New Mexico State, Sam White of Grambling, Larry Dorsey of Tennessee State and Dave Logan of Colorado.

A pair of well-known football brothers, LeRoy and Dewey Selmon of Oklahoma, anchor the defense, which also includes Steve Niehaus of Notre Dame, Jim Hunter of Grambling and Ed Simonini of Texas A&M.

Ancient Egyptians used remedies made from ox livers — rich in Vitamin A — to treat night blindness and pressed moldy bread against festering wounds, thus anticipating penicillin and other modern antibiotics.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY AREIS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Weigh proposed undertakings and their possible outcome before taking action. You may want to revise plans a bit.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Negative factors need not disturb if you keep situations in hand and study the reasons. Emphasizing the positive, you can take appropriate measures as you go along.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): An analytical look at your position may indicate some new avenue to pursue. Keep an easy yet alert eye toward future moves. Taper off in late hours to relax.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A day which calls for careful discrimination. Listen thoughtfully, observe, but do not read meanings into things not intended. Stars warn against hasty decisions.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Stellar influences only fairly generous, so you will have to provide your own momentum to carry on. Neither too many problems nor much opposition indicated.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some extra care needed in domestic and romantic interests. Don't become anxious, however. Handle with your usual dexterity.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't permit bright ideas to wither before you've tried them out. Try to dovetail some unique endeavor into your regular program.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Give everyone and everything careful appraisal. Listen attentively, but don't be swayed against your better judgment by some "smooth" talker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Some optional choices for you now. Weigh each thoughtfully, carefully evaluate potentials and then embrace the most promising.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A good outlook, but reject dubious ideas and suggestions. As with Sagittarius, determine the worth of all propositions before commitment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Favorable influences. You can now pursue the difficult tasks with as much assurance as the easier ones. Especially favored: written matters, intellectual pursuits.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stellar aspects now suggest reappraisal of forthcoming undertakings in the light of recent developments. A time for broadening your mental horizons, too.

YOU BORN TODAY, though a Leoite, possess some of the traits from the now descendant Cancer — notably your serious attitude toward life, your humanitarian impulses and deep-rooted idealism. From the ascending Leo, you are given tremendous courage and a gift of leadership — the latter an invaluable asset in business, politics and statesmanship. Both Signs endow you with versatility, imagination and a great love of color and design. Fields suited to your talents: Literature, journalism, the stage, painting, science, the law and finance. Traits to curb: Excessive pride and a tendency to try to dominate others. Birthdate of: Alexandre Dumas, French novelist; Amelia M. Earhart, renowned Amer. aviatrix.

Westminster Abbey, in London, was begun in 1045 and completed in 1065.

Views On Tiger

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

Years ago, NBC hit ratings paydirt when it had the late Chet Huntley, a serious man, and David Brinkley, who specializes in wry, co-anchoring its Democratic and GOP convention shows.

No doubt hoping to emulate the glory days, it teamed Brinkley with John Chancellor to co-anchor its convention coverage this year. But last week's Nielsen ratings for the Democratic National Convention coverage show that durable Walter Cronkite and his supporting CBS troops beat the Chancellor-Brinkley team by a slight margin.

On the average, families in 6.4 million American homes watched the prime-time convention proceedings on CBS from Monday through Thursday, compared with an average of 5.9 million homes tuned to NBC.

ABC, which since 1968 has combatted the opposition's gavel-to-gavel convention coverage with a mixture of entertainment fare and abbreviated convention-watching, drew an average of 5.4 million homes tuned in for its convention telecasts in prime time last week.

But as you'd expect, ABC whopped the start-to-finish coverage of CBS and NBC in the ratings the night of July 13, when it aired this year's All-Star baseball game in Philadelphia.

According to Nielsen estimates, viewers in nearly 18.9 million homes watched ABC's baseball show. In contrast, the total estimated audience for the competing political show on NBC and CBS was to be found in but 8.9 million homes.

It made the All-Star game last week's top rated evening attraction on TV, the lowest-rated being NBC's gavel-to-gavel look at the second night of the convention. CBS didn't do much better, either.

The night of Wednesday, July 14, was the best night the unusually dull — for Democratic gatherings — convention had in the ratings. This apparently was because viewers expected Jimmy Carter to enliven things by naming a running mate that night.

The Nielsen estimates say CBS' coverage of that evening's events topped the ratings by a narrow margin, the efforts of Cronkite & Co. seen in 7.5 million homes, with 7.3 million homes logged by NBC.

ABC, which eschewed primetime start-to-finish telecasts of the convention until the show's closing night, drew but 5.5 million homes with its abbreviated July 14 coverage.

On closing night, CBS had the most viewers watching, with sets in nearly 6.9 million homes tuned to that network.

According to Nielsen estimates, NBC was second with more than 5.8 million homes, 800,000 more than viewed ABC's convention coverage. ABC may have been third in convention viewers, but its program mix of entertainment and shortened convention coverage made it No. 1 in the over-all ratings for evening shows last week.

Blood Flow Increases

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Red Cross says the flow of blood from donors increased sharply Thursday in the wake of an appeal for help for the ailing blood bank, which doctors reported to be in serious condition.

William Eargle, blood program administrator for the Northern Ohio Red Cross, said 630 pints of blood were collected from donors at various bloodmobiles.

He said that was more than triple the normal daily response—although still below the 800-pint-per-day goal that has been set in a crash program to raise the bank's blood level.

Dr. John W. King, director of the Cleveland Clinic's blood bank, said there was "a steady stream of people coming in to make appointments" to give blood.

Dr. King had said Wednesday the blood crisis was the worst he'd seen in 25 years. There had been warnings that some hospitals might have to suspend surgical operations if blood banks didn't get a massive transfusion from donors.

Prices Increase At Expected Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices appear to be rising at about the pace predicted by the Ford Administration.

Consumer prices climbed five-tenths of one per cent in June, which is a 6 per cent annual rate, the Labor Department said Wednesday. Prices went up six-tenths of one per cent in May.

June's rise marked the first time since February that prices did not increase faster than the previous month.

Grocery prices leveled off in June, but sharply higher prices for gasoline and other energy products barred any major improvement in the nation's inflation rate.

Hot, Humid Air Covers Most Of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was warm and humid overnight for most of the nation, and readings early this morning were still in the low 80s over the plains, the Southwest and through the interior of California.

There was some precipitation, with thundershowers scattered through the upper Mississippi valley, the mid-Atlantic coastal states and the central plains. Widely scattered thundershowers, with gusty winds, caused dust storms in southern Arizona. A few showers dotted central California. Thunderstorms were hitting southwest Texas.

There was little severe weather overnight. A tornado was sighted near Duluth, Minn. Wind damage was reported at Hutchinson, Minn.

Early morning temperatures were generally in the 70s, with 60s along the Pacific coast and through the northern half of the Rockies, the Great Lakes and the northern Atlantic coastal states. A few 50s were found in Maine. Readings above 80 stretched from southern Arizona to the interior of California.

'Tecumseh' Producers Present New Drama

The Scioto Society, the producers of "Tecumseh!" has announced the casting for Edward Albee's Pulitzer prize-winning play "Seascape." The highly entertaining drama is one of several productions scheduled by the "Tecumseh!" company for public presentation next month in the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre near Chillicothe.

"Seascape" will be under the direction of David A. DeLong who portrays the "Chief Blue Jacket" in this year's "Tecumseh!" cast. DeLong, a native of Columbus, is the managing director of "Cupola," central Ohio's "alternate theatre," located at Ohio Dominican College, assisting DeLong as stage manager will be Jeff Zollinger. Frances Cooke will serve as technical director for the production.

Heading up the "Seascape" cast are Norma Lynn Matthews and Dennis Newport as "Nancy" and "Charlie", the semi-retired couple who enjoy picnicking on Sunday afternoons. "Nancy" and "Charlie" soon discover that picnics are not all fun when they are joined by another couple, "Leslie" and "Sarah." What's the catch? "Leslie" (Annie Artrup) and "Sarah" (Mark Studenmund) are sea monsters.

Matthews portrays "Mrs. Galloway" in "Tecumseh!" She is a Cleveland State University student with a wide background in college and community theatre. Newport understudies four roles this summer in "Tecumseh!" and also plays an American soldier in Harrison's army. Dennis is a native of St. Louis, Missouri, and has ample experience in academic, community, and professional theatre.

Portraying a "male lizard" will be quite a challenge for Ms. Artrup, who has been a local elementary school teacher for several years. Annie is a veteran "Tecumseh!" performer. Rounding out the cast are the dizzy "Sarah" is Mark Studenmund of Philadelphia. Mark's experience has been mostly in community theatre and at Penn State University where he will be a junior next fall.

"Seascape" will be presented two consecutive Sundays, Aug. 22 and 29, with two performances each day. Curtain for the matinee will be 2 p.m. with a 7:30 p.m. curtain for the evening performances. The public is invited to bring a picnic dinner and join the actors on stage for a pre-show snack! Tickets will be on sale at the amphitheatre prior to each performance.

In addition to "Seascape" the Scioto Society will also be producing "The Ballad Of The Flim-Flam Man", "The Fourposter", and "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown!" All the productions are being mounted by professional actors and directors from the "Tecumseh!" company.

'Preemie' Beats Odds For Life

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three months ago Pepper Tamika Root clung to life by a thread, a 1-pound, 6-ounce infant, 4½ months premature and virtually stillborn.

Today she is at home with her parents, apparently healthy after gaining three pounds over her three-month life. She has grown from 13½ inches to 18 inches, normal size for a newborn, and those who have watched her progress call it a miracle. "She was clinically dead at birth," said Dr. Ann Rogers, her pediatrician. "There's a scoring system based on four factors that they do at birth, and it was zero."

She had no heart rate, wasn't breathing, had no muscle tone or reflexes, and her coloring was "something close to black," Dr. Rogers said.

"Frankly, if it hadn't been such a premium baby, I don't think some of us would have jumped in and been so heroic," she said. The mother, Serita Root, had two previous miscarriages, one involving twins, and wanted desperately to save this baby.

A fetus that small and immature, showing no vital life signs, has "almost no good prognosis" for survival, according to Dr. Rogers.

"I thought I was losing her," Mrs. Root said Thursday. "I didn't expect her to live."

For a frantic 15 minutes, doctors at the high risk unit at Mount Carmel Hospital here worked over the infant, massaging her heart, applying oxygen, and filling her with life-giving injections. When she began to respond, they placed her in a respirator.

Mrs. Root, who quit work making decals for shirts when she became pregnant, suffers from an "incompatible cervix"—it will not stay closed when she is pregnant—and has no other children. In effect, she was miscarrying when Pepper was born, Dr. Roger said.

"When she was born they told me she was breathing and I told them to hurry up and get her to me," Mrs. Root said. "I was hoping with all my might and I had a lot of faith. My husband had a lot of faith."

Pepper, named after the television policewoman portrayed by Angie Dickinson, was in a respirator for almost three months. On Wednesday, she went home to a crib in the Root's trailer south of Columbus. Her father, Garry Root, is a truck driver.

"They told me she would have to stay in the hospital until she was just a normal little healthy baby and she acts like that's just what she is," Mrs. Root said. At 4 pounds, 6 ounces, she is still 2 pounds underweight for a newborn.

Because of the touch-and-go atmosphere at birth on April 27, the infant will be watched closely for signs of brain damage and blindness.

However, early signs are favorable. The baby responds to light and otherwise acts like a normal 3-month-old. There is at least "a good possibility" she will be perfectly normal, Dr. Rogers says.

"I've had so many people tell us to give up," she recalled. "Everyone was watching in a daze when they came to pick her up. They couldn't believe it. I didn't believe it either. They thought it was a miracle. I guess maybe it was."

The baby was delivered at Mount Carmel by Dr. Patrick Macedonia. Shortly thereafter it was transferred to Children's Hospital and Dr. Rogers came on the case.

Penn Central Owes Tax In County

State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson asked the attorney general of Ohio today to take legal action against Penn Central Transportation Co. to collect some $59.3 million in delinquent property taxes owed 74 Ohio counties.

Penn Central owes $31,372.23 in Pickaway County.

Penn Central is involved in bankruptcy proceedings in federal court in Philadelphia, Pa. Its rail operating properties have been transferred to Consolidated Rail Corp. (ConRail), a federal-government sponsored rail system.

In a letter today to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, Ferguson wrote that although Penn Central property had been transferred to ConRail, there remained "nearly sixty million dollars of delinquent taxes due various subdivisions of this state."

"While all classes of subdivisions are being adversely affected, the most severely affected are the school systems—many of which are facing the specter of closing because of this loss of funds."

Ferguson's office reported that currently it has six requests from school districts for cash financial analyses by his office—the first step in what could lead to closing schools to students sometime this fall. At least two other districts have indicated they also would seek cash financial analyses.

To date, the Auditor's office has said it will make such analyses beginning in September of Madison Local School District, Franklin County; North Union, Union County; Colonel Crawford, Crawford County; Seneca East, Seneca County; Federal Hocking, Athens County, and Bucyrus City School District, Crawford County.

"As Auditor of State," Ferguson wrote Brown, "it is my responsibility to distribute certain state-collected taxes to the counties. When one company is delinquent for such a large sum of money; and when the consequences of such delinquencies are so great, I feel it is my duty to speak out on behalf of the injured parties."

"Therefore, on behalf of the school systems, the other subdivisions, and the taxpayers of Ohio, I urge that you take whatever legal steps are necessary to obtain payment of these past-due local taxes. I imagine that this would entail either initiating an action or becoming a party to an existing one such as the bankruptcy reorganization proceedings in federal court in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania."

Truck Fire Reported

A truck fire was reported to the Circleville Fire Department Thursday at 12:10 p.m.

Firemen dispatched to the corner of Watt and Pickaway Streets where the truck owned by 23 Auto Parts had a fire in the engine compartment.

Apparently the vehicle had backfired through the carburetor and caused the fire. Only minor damages were reported.
